

We are a GDPR compliant company and therefore set out to comply with the Data Protection Act 1998. Brown & Mills Entertainment are the data controller and hold all personal details of the performer (as well as personal and contact details of the parent/guardian for under-16s) in order to provide our clients with the necessary information they require when selecting a performer for their respective projects. We will share these details where appropriate with our clients. All performers' personal and sometimes sensitive information such as appearance details, date of birth, allergies, dietary requirements, skills, talents and more will be shared with clients making bookings in order to ensure bookings are made properly and correctly. Our clients include production companies, freelance production workers, photographers, film/TV/theatre companies, casting directors and advertising agencies. We do not share your information with third parties.

If you have any questions, please contact us.
